

DOUBLE VOICE
DEMONSTRATION
AT THE PARTHENON

One of the four acts of vaudeville being shown at the Parthenon theatre today and tomorrow in addition to the first National screen masterpiece, Lionel Barrymore in "The Master Mind" is Valyda appearing in an act entitled "A Song Surprise."

To those who appreciate the difficulty and the unusualness of a double voice this act will be interesting. Singing a few original songs and ballads in a perfect lyric soprano she changes in the middle of the act and renders an attractive ballad in a contralto voice, reaching all the notes with elasticity and ease and quite surprising her audience. One of the most difficult things in the process of voice cultivation is the development of a double voice, but after years of training Valyda has acquired the unusual art and now is known as the best double voiced artist on the vaudeville stage. Her manner, her costume and way of presentation easily captivates the audience and she receives the hearty applause of all of those present. It is an act that will be greatly enjoyed and appreciated and furnish most enjoyable entertainment.

SPEEDERS TAKEN

In the Hammond police court this morning, the usual quota of drunks and speeders were arraigned. John Boardman, Indianapolis, Ind., was fined $11 for drunkenness; Dave Hamilton, 215 Sibley street, received the same dose for the offense; William E. Lewis, 1255 Harrison street, was fined $11 for speeding and Sam Grisek, 3345 West Polk street, Chicago, was fined $10 for driving a truck on the boulevard.

TILLMAN JOINS LIVE REALTY FIRM

Watch the dirt fly now! Ernest S. Tillman, well known educator, is all connected up with the Wachewicz real estate firm, and will set himself in the city real estate department with the avowed purpose of finding homes for the homeless.

W. E. Russell, also a newcomer, to the Wachewicz office, but by no means a grounded wire, will have charge of the farm department.

L. S. Fisher will fish for insurance. Mr. Fisher is also a new employee of the aforementioned firm, and will represent all the leading companies.

With Walter Lamborn, who "grewed up" there and Billy Lynch, former mail man, still on the job, looks as though this big force might do some real cutting up.

BIG MUSICAL ACT
AT THE ORPHEUM

Manager Michelstetter of the Orpheum theatre was fortunate in obtaining for today a big song and dance act with Nat Fields and twenty people, mostly girls. The act is entitled "Personalities of 1921" and was headlined at the State and Lake last week. After a workout on the small time it will go over the Orpheum circuit including the Palace and Majestic theatres, Chicago.

"This is one of the biggest musical acts I have ever had in my house," said Michelstetter.

There are even other acts on the bill tonight—bargain night.

CHAMPION COMPANY
INCREASES FORCE

The Champion Auto Equipment Co., is another Hammond industry that is booming in spite of the general depression. The concern is only a year and a half old but it has "caught on" amazingly and its product is meeting a growing demand. The force of workmen is being increased.

George Knoerzer is president of the company and Claude H. Laster, is secretary.

SERGT. JAMES'
BODY ARRIVES

The long journey from France has ended and the mortal remains of David R. James, a native son of Hammond, rests in his old home town at last. The body arrived late yesterday afternoon over the Michigan Central, being met at the depot by an escort from Edward H. Larson Post No. 892 Veterans of Foreign Wars and accompanied to the Stewart chapel. There the body will be held until the funeral which will occur on Sunday afternoon, the 25th, being deferred until then at the request of his mother, Mrs. Catherine James, of 1066 Ray avenue, in order that a number of relatives from a distance may attend. A regular military burial will be given at Oak Hill cemetery, under the direction of Edward H. Larson Post No. 892, who request the co-operation of all other Veterans and patriotic bodies and civil authorities of Hammond at this time. Due announcement will be made of the complete arrangements for the burial by the end of next week.

STRAP AND LOCK IS NO SECURITY

Thieves last night removed two tires and a rim from the rear of the auto belonging to H. L. Stebbins, Spokane, Wash., who had parked his machine near the court house on Hinman avenue. The tires were removed from the car by breaking the lock and cutting the strap which held them.

Vincent McArt, 927 Columbia avenue reported to the Hammond police that his bicycle had been stolen from the Central school.

OFFICER TO HAVE EXPERT TREATMENT

John Fisher, who fell dangerously wounded, with a bullet from the revolver of a negro gunman in his body, some time ago, has not recovered completely from his injury. The lead slug punctured his lung on the left side and the wound has not healed as it should. The place is still draining and Fisher is in very poor health.

He will leave tomorrow evening for Mayo Brothers hospital at Rochester, Minn., where he can receive proper treatment from experts. An arrangement has been made, in which his companions on the force have made a considerable sacrifice, whereby he can receive this treatment and take his wife with him.

Fisher's hundreds of friends throughout the city, who heard of his injury, with sorrow, and have been anxiously watching his progress, will be delighted to hear that this step toward recovery is to be taken.

A DOUBLE CENTURY PADDLE AMONG ATTRACTIVE
"THINGS TO DO" IN CANADA'S SWITZERLAND

New joy trips are added each year to Canada's roster of woods and water trails. The eastern provinces are tramped and paddled over by a great army of out-of-doors devotees each summer, but the general conception of Canada's mountain wonderland is that of magnificent scenery, great peaks to be climbed and vast ice fields and glaciers to be explored. These delights are all there in abundance, but this mountain country holds, too, many delightful trails. Riding and hiking are fairly well known, but the use of the canoe there is one of an innovation, at least in so far as visitors are concerned.

The opening of Camp Windermere in 1920, made a lovely new district accessible to mountain visitors and now guides are ready to pilot canoe parties over an interesting route. The start is made from Leacholl where the transcontinental main line makes a deep bend southward between the Ottertail and Beaverfoot ranges, and the first lap is down the Kootenay River, thence into the Kootenay and down that beautiful stream to its confluence with the Columbia River at Canal Flat. There the proves are turned northward to float 102 1/2 miles down the Columbia to Golden.

Lake Windermere is really a widening of Columbia River and here a stop may profitably be made at Camp Windermere which is located in a region rich in scenic beauty and interest. Individual cabins, a jolly club house, bathing in delightfully warm water, golf and excursions to canyons and glaciers are among the camp's attractions.

This trip is one that appeals to real sportsmen as there is some rough water to be negotiated. This can be safely done with a big canoe by capable boatmen. Big game, fishing and fine scenery are plentiful along the entire distance.

BIG THINGS EXPECTED OF "JOB" CONFERENCE

BY GEORGE R. HOLMES
(STAFF CORRESPONDENT I. N. SERVICE)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—President Harding's unemployment conference, scheduled to open in Washington ten days hence, is going to concern itself primarily with the task of finding jobs for some 3,000,000 jobless before cold weather sets in, rather than seek to discover the why and wherefores of unemployment according to those familiar with the conference plans.

The President and Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover are completing preparations for the conference today after weeks' consideration of the whole problem during the vacation trip. Acceptances from nearly all of the thirty persons to whom invitations were addressed have been received here.

The administration plans to have the forthcoming conference deal entirely with the task of bringing the jobless in immediate contact with the job, leaving to a less critical time the more ambitious undertaking of finding a permanent cure for sporadic unemployment.

Great care will be exercised, it was said, to keep the conference harmonious and to exclude from its program such controversial subjects between capital and labor as the open shop, wage reductions, living costs and similar matters. In this respect, administration spokesmen emphasized today the conference is to be an "employment conference" and not an "industrial conference."

What the president desires the meeting to bring forth is a number of concrete measures to bring relief before winter adds to the grief of the jobless.

The ultimate aim of the president and Secretary Hoover is to evolve if possible some remedial measures which can be applied in the future for the avoidance of just such a condition as the country finds itself in today.

MATHEW OFENLOCH
PASSES AWAY

Mathew Ofenloch, formerly of Hammond, died yesterday at his home, 10196 Ave. M., South Chicago, following an illness of only a few days. He is survived by a wife and five children, four sisters and a brother. Mrs. Geo. Cope of Hammond is a sister and Peter Ofenloch of Hammond is a brother. It is thought that the funeral services will be held Monday morning at nine o'clock from St. Francis de Sales church. Burial will be in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Chicago.

DEATH OF CLEMENT KLEIN

Mrs. F. Cope, 207 State street, Hammond, today received the sad news of the death of her brother, Clement Klein, which occurred Thursday evening.

ing at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed Webster, 2046 Osgood street, Chicago. Mr. Klein's wife died a year ago last July. He leaves a son William, of Chicago, two daughters, Mrs. Mackery of Texas and Mrs. Webster, of Chicago, and nine grandchildren among whom is Dr. William Mackery of Chicago. Friends may view the remains at the daughter's home Saturday and Sunday. The funeral will be held from the residence Monday morning and later at St. Althonsus church at ten o'clock where solemn requiem high mass will be said. Burial will be in St. Boniface cemetery.

SAYS HE RAN AWAY

Mrs. Myers, juvenile officer, states that Bert Boswell, 227 Highland street, Hammond, did not break into a Highland street home as reported by the police. She says that he ran away from home and later returned. He has been taken to Crown Point under a charge of larceny, but it has not been made clear what the circumstances of the case are.

TRACTION CO.
SUES EWINGS

The Gary & Hobart Traction Company, has filed suit in the Hammond Superior court against Edgar A. Ewing and others, heirs of Adlai Ewing late president of the company, to force the estate to fulfill a contract entered into by Adlai Ewing by which he was to purchase a small tract of land in Hobart for the company.

Mr. Ewing, the complaint says, paid $600 for a piece of ground adjoining the car barns of the traction line in Hobart. The company needed the land but was not able financially to make the purchase. Mr. Ewing, it is said, offered to buy it and hold it until the company was able to take it off his hands. That was in June, 1918, and he died November 2, 1920, before the company could make the purchase. The plaintiffs now ask that the Ewings turn over the land and accept the purchase of $600 with interest to date.

Good Evening!
Been in A Wreck?

That's unfortunate—but, you know, the best of folks have accidents that are unavoidable. That doesn't take the crimp out of that fender, however, or the dent out of the body—unless, of course, you drive your car over to this shop and let us diagnose the case. We GUARANTEE a cure.

There'll be no scars when we get through—just paste that down in your bonnet! The affected parts will look as though they had been shipped direct from the factory.

We take dents out of bodies, repair fenders and wire wheels, and have an UP-TO-DATE BAKING OVEN to enamel hoods, fenders, radiators, wheels, and any metal part of an auto that is to be painted. The cost is but a small item. Come in and see us and be convinced of the superiority of our work. WE ALSO REPAINT YOUR AUTO COMPLETE.

Used Autos Bought and Sold

If you have a used automobile or want one, we are headquarters for this kind of business and you can always get the squarest deal here. Better see us without any further delay.
